

RIM Education Resources

This listing of RIM education resources is intended for those who wish to further their RIM education, whether through online learning or classroom based programs.

Online training can be found through the following associations via paid membership and/or fee:

- Association for Intelligent Information Management (AIIM): Offers courses on various topics in Quick Study and Deep Dive formats; Certified Information Professional (CIP) certification; also offers in-person training
  - <https://www.aiim.org/>
- ARMA International: Offers online learning in various topics; Publications; Standards and best practices; Certificate programs; Digital credentials
  - <https://www.arma.org/>

The ARMA International Educational Foundation has an international directory of English language courses in Records and Information Management, which lists accredited colleges and universities offering courses and programs leading to various Associate, Certificate, Bachelor, Masters, and Ph.D. degrees. It can be found here:

- <http://armaedfoundation.org/collegiate-directory/>

Saskatchewan Polytechnic offers several programs which may also be of interest:

- Library and Information Technology (Diploma)
  - <https://saskpolytech.ca/programs-and-courses/programs/Library-and-Information-Technology.aspx>
- Health Information Management (Diploma)
  - <https://saskpolytech.ca/programs-and-courses/programs/Health-Information-Management.aspx>
- Geographic Information Science for Resource Management (Certificate)
  - <https://saskpolytech.ca/programs-and-courses/programs/Geographic-Information-Science-for-Resource-Management.aspx>